

I have been listening to XM radio for about 1 year in my home and office. Because of the addition of continuous traffic and weather reports I just added an XM hookup in my car. XM is a valuable resource providing me the programming I want when I want it, including many features not available from LA radio stations. The traffic reports are extremely valuable to me. I still listen to commercial radio as well as NPR and am a contributor to our NPR outlet, KCRW.

XM is competing with commercial and non-profit radio. Each source has benefits. Do not interfere with XM's innovative programming and innovations such as continuous traffic reports.
